This book is a study of personality. It is a radical departure from those that have come before. Since the subject of the University is the students, we proudly dedicate the 1968 Sou'wester to the students, whose desires, dreams, and actions will move the University forward.

SOUTHWESTERN REFLECTIONS

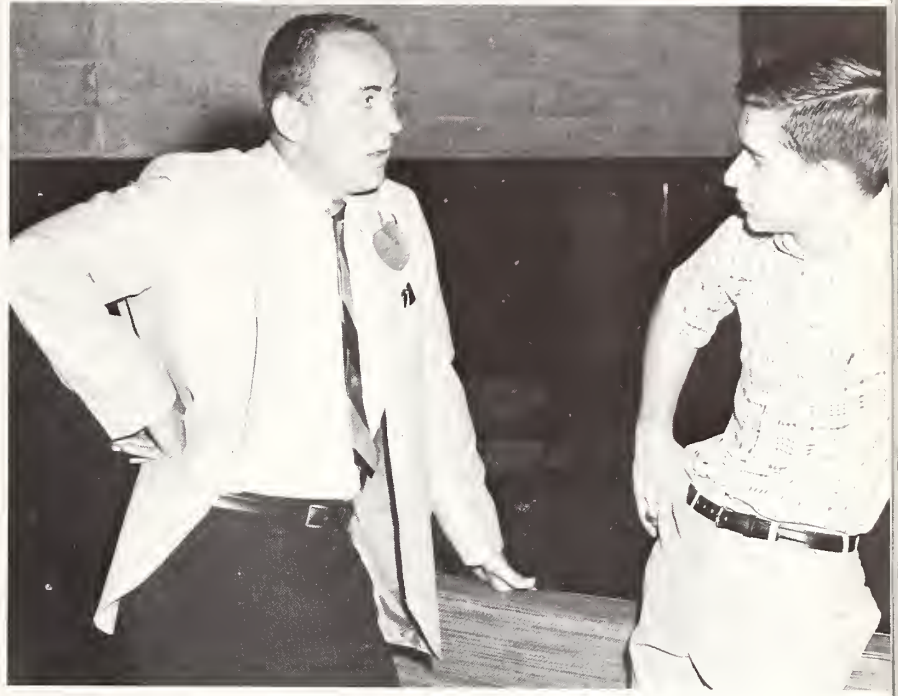

Southwestern Reflections:

The mirror of life reflects our thoughts, desires and attitudes as we head toward maturity. The first step begins with the impact of college . . .

The wheel of fortune goes around as the class schedules are dealt out. For some the lucky number comes around—no Saturday classes. The college world opens before our eyes offering frustration, anxiety, and physical exhaustion—all with the promise of learning.

Fall Convocation

Curiosity coupled with students' recent espionage-flick experiences was sparked by secret service men bugging the chapel, prowling through now-deserted Mood, canvassing the campus from a helicopter, blocking the campus drive, and questioning certain early and late strollers. The occasion attracted students as classes were temporarily dismissed and dignitaries assembled on the lawn for Ambassador Clark's presentation of the Texana Collection to the Cody Memorial Library.

At the Convocation following the presentation, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson received an honorary degree. Also receiving honorary degrees were Mr. Grogan Lord of Georgetown, and Mr. William S. Beinecke of New York City.

Beauty Review

Preparations by the SOU'WESTER staff had continued for many weeks. A lemon yellow wicker throne was to seat the new beauty. A fountain for wishes completed the decor.

The 1967-1968 All-School Beauty Suzanne Allison was crowned by her predecessor Judy Franze. Named to her court were Vicki West, Alpha Delta Pi Beauty; Mary Montgomery, Delta Delta Delta Beauty; Barbara Byard, Delta Zeta Beauty; Anita Tate, Independent Beauty; Mary Kern, Phi Mu Beauty; and Ann McKinney, Zeta Tau Alpha Beauty.

Two Pi Delta Epsilon Medal of Merit Awards were made by Dr. Jeff Campbell, adviser of this national honorary journalism fraternity. They went to Chrissie Lucinda Dickerson, for her work as editor of the SOU'WESTER during the past two years, and Charles P. Neuffer, III, for his two years' service as editor of the MEGAPHONE. In addition, Sarah Cupp Smith accepted a National Pi Delta Epsilon Contest Award for the excellence of the 1966-67 SOUTHWESTERN MAGAZINE.

Dear Mr. Neuffer:
Your advertising (The NYT, April 28, 1968) is an attempt to screen the selfishness of ignoble youth by humanitarian phraseology.
This problem is discussed in detail in my paper, PATRIOTS FORWARD-SMASH THE FILTHY DISSENTERS.
Trusting that you have not lost completely the idea of democratic process I ask you to inform your readers about this paper. It is distributed free on request.

Basketball '68

Southwestern's Basketball Pirates finished the season with a 16-7 won-lost record, including a 6-4 conference standing, which was good enough for second place in the Big State circuit.

The Pirates were ranked in the top 20 in the nation by both UPI and AP from the first game of the season until January. During this time, the Pirates repeatedly held down the number 16 spot nationally.

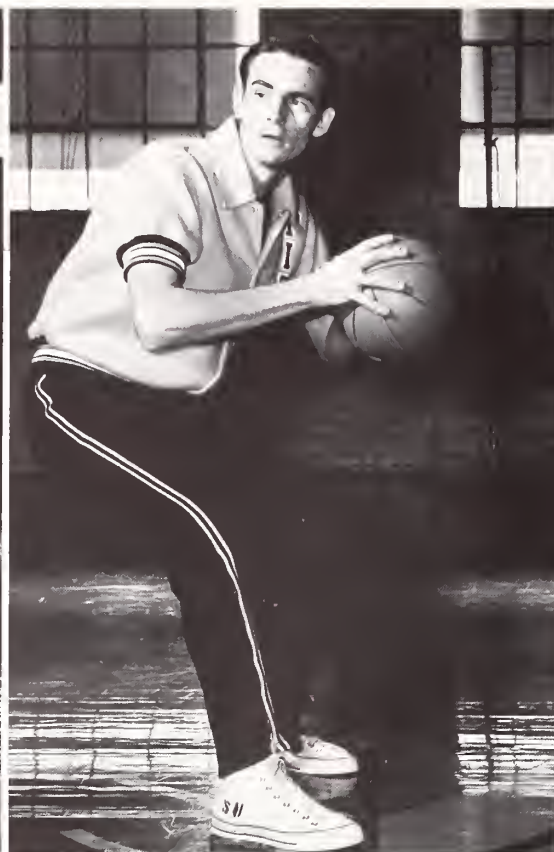

Two Pirate starters, Davis Blanton and Luke Lucas, were named to the All-Conference team and Blanton was named to the ALL-AMERICAN Honorable Mention team.

Coach Bill Merritt directed the team throughout the season. The Pirates will have two returning squadmen next year.

Paced by the powerful playing of Rand Fuller and David Street and strongly supported by the other members, Southwestern's Pirate Tennis team finished the season with a 4-win 1-tie record which placed the team first in the conference. The Big State conference champions were coached by Myron Dees.

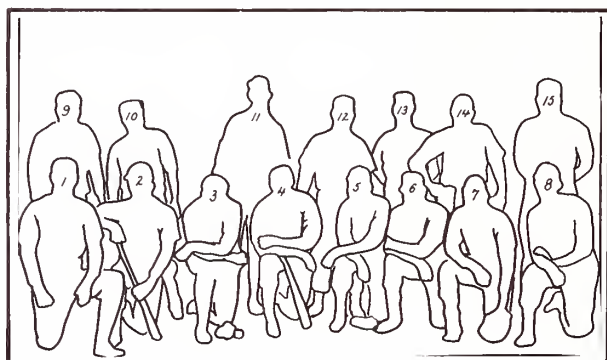

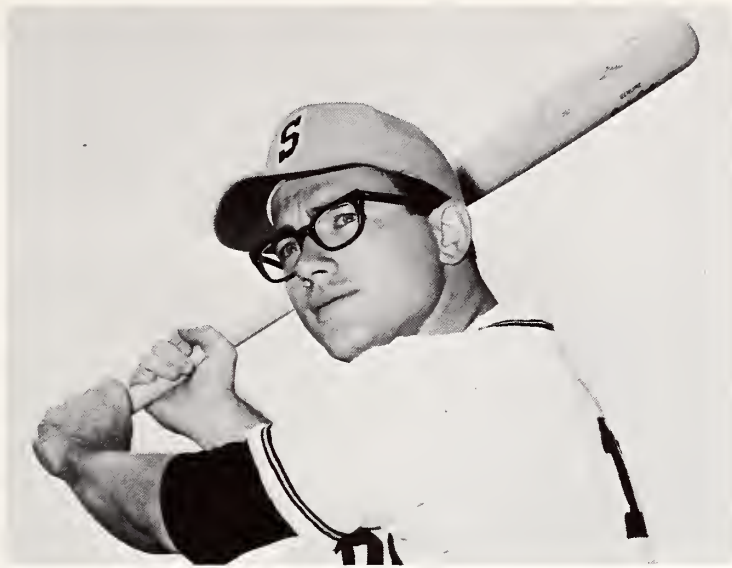

Baseball '68

1968 was not a winning year for the Pirate Baseball team. The Pirates managed a fifth place seat in the six team Big State Conference. Directed by Bill Merritt, the Pirates placed one man on the All-Conference team with high hopes for a winning team next season.

ELIZABETH BIGHAM

Epilogue: Editors Struggle Under Heavy Load.

As we look back on the past year when we were first selected as editors of the 1968 SOU'WESTER, we now wonder if it was such an honor, or rather a sly way of punishing some unsuspecting soul. Our first thought was to have a radically different yearbook that would show the sense of urgency that our generation feels. Since then, the views and the situations have been modified, yet we of the SOU'WESTER feel that this is a tremendous book. The question always seems to come up, whether at the Commons, the library, or the dorm, "How's the annual coming?" And at times, we felt like saying, "It's already gone." But with such a great staff, we were able to muddle through.

There are three aspects of this yearbook that we have tried to emphasize. First was that the book should be a record of the year, showing all phases of the University, from lounging in the tube room, to loving The second and most important aspect was the student. We tried to capture the mood of the school and the feelings that are felt from the time a student first sees his room (in the Senior's case, the horror when we discovered we were to live in a building called Mood), to the excitement of receiving that all-important certificate on graduation day. Finally we tried to present the book in a new way, aware that the presentation is important. Thus we went to the modrian layout and the Greek "groups."

But this masterpiece that now lays before your eyes could not have been done without the help of Mr. John Hobbs, advisor, who helped us over the hill. At last a special tribute to John David Fields, photographer, who had to put up with crazy editors with weird ideas in order to get the job done. We hope you enjoy the 1968 SOU'WESTER as it brings back the memories of this year.
